

(COOL) FUN AT HOME : DAY 21

MONSTER MASH-UP

EXPLORE OUTSIDE

MONSTER SCAVENGER HUNT: If there is a break in the rain today, grab the wellies and head outside for a Monster Scavenger Hunt! You can download a clue card from Faffy Tea here.

LEARN

MONSTER MIND: Alliteration is when two or more words in a row begin with the same letter sound. Great examples? Tongue twisters like "Sally sells Seashells" or "Peter Piper." Challenge your child(ren) to make a phrase or sentence using alliteration for every letter for the word MONSTER. We'll go first - Munching Monsters Meet on Mondays!

CREATIVITY CHALLENGE

DRAW A ME MONSTER: If your child loves friendly Monsters, they will really LOVE the collections of books written and illustrated by Baltimore's own David Zobel! Join David as he reads his book 'MeMonster' and then teaches your child how to draw the main character! (Love the book? Buy it here.)

MOVE

MONSTER BOOGIE: Show us you monster moves! Check out this video with Laurie Berkner. (Is your kiddo a huge Berkner fan? She's going live on Facebook today at 10 AM for a Berkner Break!)

PLAYDOUGH FUN

PLAYDOUGH MONSTERS

Have your child create and mold their own monster creation while working on their fine motor skills. Add additional fun materials (googly eyes, pipe cleaners, beads, popsicle sticks, etc) to the table complete the monsters. Check out some of the creations on Fantastic Fun & Learning!

SNACK TIME

MONSTER TRAIL MIX

Your entire family will love this Monster Trail mix from Mom's Dinner! Best part about this recipe is you to be creative and add/eliminate items to suit your families taste or your pantry's limitations.
